COMPASS has been one of the pillars instrumental in the growth of the IT products & services in Eastern India since the last 25 years. The industry is evolving into specialized sub-sectors both in product and service categories. Each has its own set of business dynamics and challenges.

Anticipating the need of specialized and more specific representation for sustained growth in the times to come, COMPASS intends to form three Special Interest Groups (SIG) as under:

1. Software, IT Services and Digital Marketing
2. System Integrators & Electronic Security
3. Telecom Product & Services

These groups are expected to identify and address issues typical to itself and further create opportunities for group members within the eco-system.

Members are requested to express their interest to join one or more such Special Interest Group by filling the attached Google Form. To avoid unwanted reminder from the Association, even in case you are not interested to join any of the groups, kindly select “none of the above”.
